

CONVERSATIONS ABOUT DEATH AND DYING

05.09.18

COSLA Conference Centre,
Haymarket Yards, Edinburgh

56,000 people die every year in Scotland, yet as a society we rarely talk about death and dying. Medical developments mean that we are living longer and that death has become more medicalised. This has impacted on our ability to talk about death and dying.

This 5 hour CPD conference aims to break down barriers and help key professionals (legal, health & social care) understand their responsibilities around end of life discussions & feel more confident in having these.
